

Climate Smart Mitigation & Adaptation Strategies Workshop

This UConn Extension workshop, in partnership with USDA RMA, will assist producers in understanding the seasonal risks, challenges and opportunities associated with our changing climate. We will outline many of the strategies that have emerged for:

1. Successful adaptation
2. Reducing risks
3. Build farm and land resiliency

Examples and tools suitable for a wide variety of kinds and farms sizes will be included.

You will be provided with a template and tools to:

1. Help assess your challenges
2. Create an adaptation tool tailored to your business and site

Participants will also learn of tools and programs available from USDA RMA, USDA FSA, USDA NRCS, and the CT Department of Agriculture.

Lunch will be provided free of cost.
